

MINDSTREAM ANALYTICS

DATA MANAGEMENT

YOUR DATA MANAGEMENT VISION AND STRATEGY DEFINED

Your business wants to: plan with data, sell with data, market with data, report with data, and analyze with data. To do all of this, you need to manage your data. Progressive companies and business leaders understand the value of data as a strategic asset, but many lack the vision and wherewithal to define and implement a strategy that truly supports business objectives and goes beyond IT to provide real strategic business transformation. MindStream Analytics can help.

MindStream Analytics consultants understand complex data challenges, and we have the experience and real-world strategies to tackle them. Our data management capabilities run the gamut. We are experts in data: discovery, quality, design, architecture and governance – making us well primed to take on your toughest data requests.

Our data management advisory and consulting services, include:

Current State Assessment: We'll perform a data management assessment that looks closely at your current state and capabilities versus best practices in areas such as data architecture, data governance and big data. We'll provide a gap analysis and prioritized recommendations for closing that gap.

Roadmap: We'll provide a strategic roadmap utilizing an agile phased approach that will enable you to close the gap on items identified in the assessment.

Technology Platform (on-premise & SaaS): Our technology advisory services will give you a perspective into industry available platforms and their alignment to your future state vision. We can also guide you on build vs. buy recommendations. When you're ready to implement a solution, we can help with that too.

Data Governance: We believe that data is an asset, and as an asset it should be managed accordingly. MindStream Analytics can help launch a data governance framework, helping define a strategy, executed by people through a set of integrated processes to ensure the accuracy of data through policies enabled by technologies.

Advisory & Consulting
Defining your vision and turning it into a winning game plan.

Data Management
Leveraging your data for greater business value.

Cloud Solutions
Translating and implementing your business objectives into cloud technology solutions for competitive advantage.

Mobile Solutions
Information on the go -your information should be your constant companion, we make that happen.

Analytics
Bringing life to your data for deeper, faster insights.

Managed Services
Focus on your core competency while MindStream optimizes your investment

Solution Implementation
Your go to partner for data intensive, analytical solutions.

MindStream Datasheet

To learn more about how MindStream Analytics can help you win with data:

800-497-0151
www.mindstreamanalytics.com