ING  DIRECT™

From project management to application design to data integration to application build, the MindStream team was efficient, experienced, and professional. We started the process looking for an implementation team, what we found in MindStream was a strategic partner."

Mike McGay, Sr. Project Manager, ING Direct USA,

"I really appreciated the level of service you provide us. MindStream represents a dying breed of service providers in this country -- ones that actually care about their clients."
